Never Before Has Such Careful thought been given to the scientific designing of homesites and to the laying out of streets. Wherever a beautiful vista suggested itself it was retained. Drives were located in natural curves, small parks were placed at street intersections, but the details of this beautification have by no means been completed. Our landscape architect was asked to make it nothing less than one of the most strikingly beautiful residence districts in America. In his plans he was to consider it a place of villas, of homes in gardens. That this has been done will be proven by a study of the map from the landscape artist's standpoint.

KERN PLACE'S curved streets add scenic beauty to its homes, and destroy all semblance of monotony.

KERN PLACE'S open spaces and high elevations make broad vistas, comfortable days and cool nights.

KERN PLACE is five minutes by motor from the business center and all people realize the convenience of its close proximity to the business district. It is but five minutes' walk from the new $500,000 High School.
